CUT LEDGE ON 1000 LEVEL

DIVIDE CUTS RICH ORE ASSAYING $30 TO $60

Yesterday the shift working in the divide district, the 1000 level in the Tonopah Divide mine, encountered the ledge showing on the 800-foot level. The ledge is in ore, assaying from $30 to $60 per ton. The width of the ledge is uncertain, and cross-cutting will be started to ascertain the dimensions of the new find. The cutting of the ledge on the 1000 level means much to the divide district, as it proves conclusively that the ledges go down, and better still, that values are held with depth. The knackers who have claimed that no values would be found at the 1000 point will now have to pay off a few shifts, and, presumably, that values will not be found on the 1100 level. The ore found on the 1000 and it will be found on the 1100 as well, and it is safe to predict that when the 1500 is reached, or before that, the value level, the values in the sulphide will have increased materially, and the whole Divide district will resume operations, going to depth to encounter the orebodies which crop out upon the surface. The cutting of the ledge on the 1000 level of the Big Divide means the future of the Divide district and the business longevity of Tonopah. Everybody in this city are shaking hands with one another today.

As soon as the raise being driven from the 1000 to the 800 levels is shot through, the Divide Mining company will resume sinking, the objective point being the water level. Good practical mining is being carried forward in the Divide mine under the supervision of William Waters, and splendid results are being obtained by him, which are gratifying to the directors and stockholders.

FATE OF PETROGRAD STILL IN BALANCE

(By Associated Press.)
RUSSIA, March 10.—Three brigades of bolshevik troops in Moscow have joined the revolutionary forces, according to bolshevik sources here today. Their action was prompted by the acute food situation at the soviet capital.

(By Associated Press.)
LONDON, March 10.—Reports from Russia continue to be obscure and conflicting. A Reuters dispatch from Helmsford says the Russian agency there declares the fate of Petrograd still is in the balance, denying that revolutionary troops are occupying most of that city. ## OVERTURES BY FRENCH ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS

(By Associated Press.)
PARIS, March 10.—It was stated today at the foreign office that negotiations are under way between the French embassy at Washington and the United States department of state in an effort to induce President Harding to favor the acceptance of a modified league of nations.

The French position is conciliatory and is believed to relate to expressions by officials connected with the present Washington administration made during the peace conference.

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 10.—Administration officials withheld comment on the statement made at the French foreign office to the effect that negotiations are under way regarding a modified league of nations. The impression was given, however, that the initiative in any such development rested entirely with the French government, and, in any event, the matter had not reached the stage of negotiations.

Secretary Hughes refused to discuss the question. It became known, however, that last Tuesday he had a half hour talk with Ambassador Jusserand just before the presentation of the diplomatic corps. Whether the subject of a league of nations was touched has not been made known.

President Harding already has received considerable information through his unofficial sources regarding the feeling of European statesmen, and it is expected that he will make a still more exhaustive investigation before he launches his foreign program.

It would not be a surprise to those who have been in close touch with the situation if the president sent several representatives abroad within the next few weeks to make inquiries.

BRIEF FILED TODAY IN PICKFORD CASE

(By Associated Press.)
MINDEN, Nev., March 10.—Reassured that Leonard D. Fowler, attorney general of Nevada, had no authority under state laws to bring his recent action to set aside a divorce granted "en re" to Mary Pickford from Owen Moore was made today in a brief filed by Miss Pickford's attorney Gavin McNab, of San Francisco. Miss Pickford, who is now Mrs. Douglas Fairbanks, and Mr. Moore are motion picture stars.

"If the people wished the attorney general to represent them in divorce cases, they would wish him to represent them in all divorce cases, because the law of the people must have uniform operation," the brief said. "Surely they would not leave it to the attorney general to represent them in only one divorce proceeding merely because one of the parties happened to be conspicuous."

"They would not allow him, in defiance of precedent and at variance with American principles to say like the celebrated kind, 'The state? I am the state' which he is attempting to do in this case. The attorney general seems to be suffering from a confusion of ideas in which he does not perceive the distinction between exercising delegated powers as a servant of the state and being the state itself."

BARNEY MCCANN SHOT TO DEATH AT HUNT CANYON

At noon today the sheriff's office received a phone message from Deputy Sheriff Kelly at Manhattan telling them that Barney McCann had been shot and killed at the Hunt Canyon ranch by Robert Hughes, and that Hughes was on his way to Belmont. The deputy also stated that the body of McCann was lying back of the barn at the McCann ranch, where the killing occurred.

Deputy Sheriff Kelly left for Belmont immediately to take Hughes into custody, and the coroner of Manhattan was dispatched to the scene of the killing.

Both parties are well known in Nye county, having lived practically all their lives in Belmont. Hughes, who is alleged to have done the shooting, is next to the youngest of four sons in the Hughes family. It is said that he has spells of despondency and is irrational at times. The dead man had always been of a jovial disposition and was liked by all his acquaintances. He was one of those kind and generous-hearted persons who are found on the ranges of the ranch in Nevada. He has two brothers and a sister residing in this county.

The young man who is charged with the crime, was born in Belmont and was also highly esteemed by those who were acquainted with him and it is supposed the act was committed during a moment of temporary insanity.

At 2 p.m. Hughes was brought to Tonopah and taken to the court house. In a statement made to the officers, he said that McCann and he were alone at the ranch and that he shot and killed McCann, but he can give no reason for the act. His talk is rambling and shows that his mind is unbalanced. The McCann and Hughes families have always been on the best of terms, and no embitterment has existed at any time between them. Hughes was lodged in the county jail and a guard was placed over him.

CLARA SMITH HAMON TRIAL STARTS TODAY

(By Associated Press.)
ARMORE, Okla., March 10.—Mrs. Clara Smith Hamon was brought to trial here charged with murder in connection with the death of Jake L. Hamon, Republican national committee man from Oklahoma, and a wealthy oil operator. Mr. Hamon died November 25 last, five days after he was shot. The shot that caused Mr. Hamon's death was conclusively declared by Frank L. Ketch, his business manager, to have been self-inflicted through the accidental discharge of a .22 calibre automatic pistol which Mr. Hamon was cleaning.

Clara Smith Hamon was charged with assault with intent to kill in information filed by County Attorney Russell R. Brown the day following the shooting, which later was changed to a charge of murder. A separate information was filed jointly charging Clara Smith Hamon and Jake Hamon with a statutory offense. Warrant on this charge was never served.

Clara Smith Hamon was graduated from the common schools of Lawton, Oklahoma, afterwards attended business college at Fort Worth, Texas, and Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, and later assumed a position as cashier and bookkeeper in several stores at Lawton.

Mrs. Clara Hamon entered the employ of Jake Hamon in the summer of 1912 in the capacity of a private secretary, which position was maintained until a short time before Mr. Hamon met his death. It had not been established whether Mrs. Hamon was in Mr. Hamon's employ at the time of his death.

Mrs. Clara Hamon disappeared the day following the wounding of Jake Hamon and despite a search which gained nationwide scope, was not discovered until she voluntarily gave herself up at Juarez, Mexico, shortly before Christmas. Armorer county officials and attorneys from Fort Worth, Texas, who had been retained by Mrs. Hamon's uncle, Benjamin Harrison, of Iowa, as counsel shortly before she surrendered, accompanied her back to Armorer.

She arrived in Armorer on Christmas day and was granted her freedom under bond of $12,000 only a few moments after entering the sheriff's office, which served as a courtroom for her preliminary hearing and serving of bail. She pleaded not guilty. Following her release Mrs. Hamon spent the greater part of her time with her relatives at Lawton and Ringling, Oklahoma, west of Armorer, and in consultation with her attorneys at Fort Worth.

It was many days after the search for Mrs. Hamon began before it was learned that Clara Smith at
